By signing below I agree to participate in the 2010 CSA season at Big Leaf Farm as a member. CSA membership entails sharing the benefits and risks of small-scale agriculture, and I understand that as a member I agree to share some of the risk of the farming endeavor. This might mean that I could receive a lesser volume or diversity of produce or, in extreme cases, miss a weekly share altogether. I agree to pick up my share every week for the duration of the CSA season, and understand that refunds will not be offered for unclaimed shares. If I or a friend am unable to pick up my weekly share every week at the farm or at the SE Portland location, the farm will donate it to the Estacada Food Bank. I realize that Big Leaf Farm is a diversified farming operation that may market some of its produce through outlets other than CSA
